A repeatable visibility routine

AI Toolkit

Your own LinkedIn AI resource kit

What This Course Is Really About

This course is not about becoming an influencer. It is about using LinkedIn to become more effective professionally — so the right people can find, understand, and trust you.

Easier to Understand

Your message is clear and immediately resonates with your target audience.

Easier to Trust

Your profile and content build credibility and authentic connection.

Easier to Find

The right people discover you through search and relevant content.

Easier to Remember

A consistent voice and brand that sticks in people's minds.

Easier to Connect With

A welcoming presence that invites meaningful professional relationships.

 AI will act as your writing partner, reviewer, coach, and practice partner throughout this entire course.

What AI Will Help You Do

Throughout this course, AI becomes your most versatile professional development tool — helping you think more clearly, write more effectively, and build more consistently.

Clarify Your Message

Sharpen your professional identity and communicate your value with precision.

Improve Your Profile

Rewrite your headline, About section, and experience for maximum impact.

Generate Content Ideas

Never run out of relevant, audience-focused topics to post about.

Draft and Edit Posts

Write better posts faster with AI as your co-author and editor.

Build a Weekly Routine

Create a sustainable LinkedIn workflow that fits your schedule.

Practice and Toolkit

Simulate readers, refine your voice, and build a reusable AI resource kit.

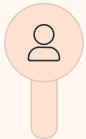

Course Roadmap

Six focused modules take you from clarity to consistency — building your LinkedIn presence step by step.

Module 1: Clarify Your Goal and Brand

Define your LinkedIn purpose, audience, and professional value statement.

Module 2: Improve Your LinkedIn Profile

Rewrite every section of your profile to attract the right opportunities.

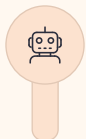

Module 3: Create Better LinkedIn Content

Generate ideas, draft posts, and develop a consistent content voice.

Module 4: Build a Weekly Workflow

Design a repeatable routine that keeps your visibility growing.

Module 5: Use AI as a Practice Partner

Simulate real readers and refine your messaging with AI feedback.

Module 6: Build Your LinkedIn AI Toolkit

Compile all your prompts, templates, and workflows into one reusable kit.

Module 1

Clarify Your LinkedIn Goal and Professional Brand

Before you improve your profile or start posting, get clear on your goal. Everything else flows from this foundation.

Your LinkedIn goal shapes everything:

- Your Headline
The first thing anyone reads — it must reflect your true purpose.
- Your About Section
Your story, told in a way that resonates with your target audience.
- Your Content Topics
What you post should serve your goal and speak to your audience.
- Your Connection Strategy
Who you connect with and how you engage with them.
- Your Weekly Routine
How you spend your LinkedIn time each week.

Why Are You Using LinkedIn?

Different goals require fundamentally different strategies. Knowing your "why" is the most important first step. Here are the most common LinkedIn goals professionals pursue:

Find a Job

Get discovered by recruiters and hiring managers actively searching for your skills.

Attract Clients

Position yourself as the go-to expert for the problems your ideal clients face.

Build Credibility

Establish authority in your field through consistent, valuable content.

Grow a Network

Expand your professional connections with intention and purpose.

Support Sales

Warm up prospects and support your sales conversations with a strong presence.

Recruit Talent

Attract top candidates by showcasing your team's culture and mission.

Share Expertise

Contribute ideas and insights that add value to your professional community.

Career Change

Reposition yourself for a new direction and signal your readiness to the market.

AI Prompt — Clarify Your LinkedIn Goal

Use this prompt directly in ChatGPT, Claude, or your preferred AI tool. Copy it exactly, then answer the questions the AI asks you.

Act as a LinkedIn personal branding coach. Ask me 5 questions to clarify why I want to use LinkedIn. Include questions about my career goals, audience, strengths, current role, and opportunities I want more of. After I answer, summarize my main LinkedIn goal in one clear paragraph.

- ✓ After running this prompt, you will have a clear, written LinkedIn goal you can reference throughout the entire course.

What This Prompt Covers

01

Career Goals

Where you want to go professionally

02

Your Audience

Who you most want to reach

03

Your Strengths

What you bring to the table

04

Current Role

Your starting point and context

05

Opportunities

What you want more of in your career

Activity — Write Your 90-Day LinkedIn Goal

This is your first hands-on activity. Complete the sentence below to create a concrete, time-bound LinkedIn goal that will guide everything you do in this course.

📝 Complete this sentence: "Over the next 90 days, I want LinkedIn to help me: [insert goal]"

Examples to Inspire You

1

Become more visible to hiring managers

Show up in recruiter searches and make a strong first impression with your profile.

2

Build trust with potential clients

Post consistently about the problems you solve and the results you deliver.

3

Share useful ideas with my industry

Become a recognized voice in your field by contributing valuable perspectives.

4

Strengthen my professional network

Connect intentionally with peers, leaders, and collaborators who align with your goals.

Define Your LinkedIn Audience

A strong LinkedIn presence is not for everyone — it is for the right people. Knowing exactly who you are speaking to makes every part of your profile and content more effective.

Who Could Be Your Audience?

Recruiters

Actively searching for candidates with your skills and background.

Hiring Managers

Decision-makers evaluating whether you are the right fit for their team.

Potential Clients

Prospects exploring whether you can solve their specific problems.

Current Customers

Existing relationships you want to deepen and retain.

More Audience Types

Industry Peers

Colleagues who share your professional context and challenges.

Leaders

Senior professionals whose attention and respect you want to earn.

Referral Partners

People who can send opportunities your way when the time is right.

Future Collaborators

Potential partners for projects, ventures, or creative work.

 You do not need to speak to all of these audiences. Pick 1–3 primary audiences and build your profile and content around them.

AI Prompt — Identify Your Audience

Once you have your LinkedIn goal, use this prompt to get specific about who you should be speaking to — and what they actually care about.

Act as a professional audience strategist. Based on my LinkedIn goal of [insert goal], help me identify the 3 most important audiences I should speak to on LinkedIn. For each audience, explain what they care about, what problems they may have, and what kind of profile or content information would be useful to them.

Remember to replace [insert goal] with the 90-day goal you wrote in the previous activity before running this prompt.

What You Will Get Back

1 Audience #1

Their priorities, pain points, and what content resonates with them

2 Audience #2

A second key group with their own distinct needs and expectations

3 Audience #3

A third audience and the profile signals that matter most to them

Clarify Your Professional Value

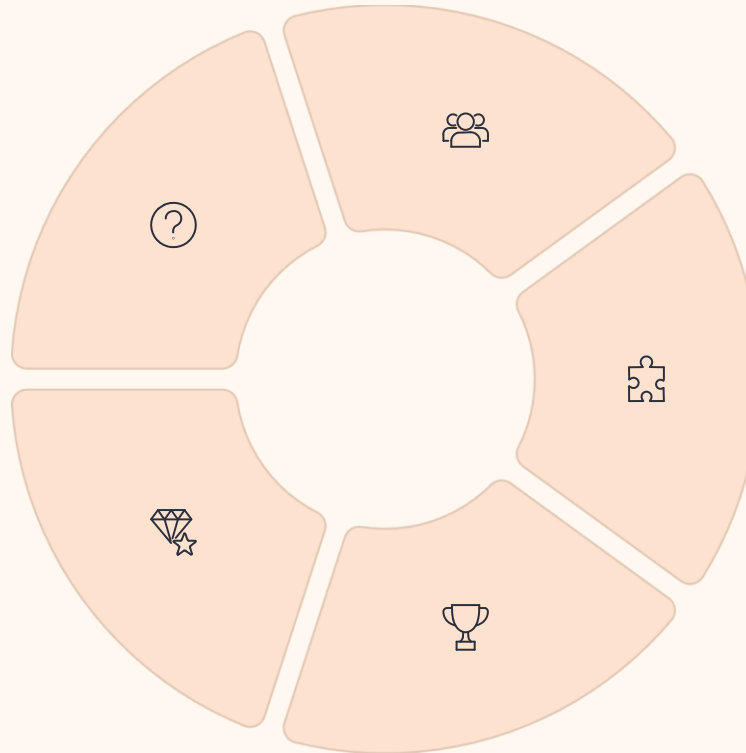

Your professional brand should answer five essential questions — clearly and quickly. If a visitor to your profile cannot answer these within seconds, your message needs work.

What do you do?

Your role, function, and area of expertise in plain language.

What makes your experience useful?

The unique combination of skills and background that sets you apart.

Who do you help?

The specific audience or type of organization you serve best.

What problems do you understand?

The challenges and pain points you have deep experience with.

What outcomes do you support?

The results and transformations you help others achieve.

✔ Simple formula: I help [audience] achieve [outcome] through [skills or experience].

AI Prompt — Write Your Value Statement

Use this prompt to generate multiple versions of your professional value statement. Having several options lets you choose the one that feels most authentic — and use different versions in different contexts.

Act as a LinkedIn positioning coach. Help me write a clear professional value statement using this format: I help [audience] achieve [outcome] by using [skills, experience, or approach]. Here is my background: [insert background]. Give me 5 versions: simple, warm, executive, career-change friendly, and consultant style.

The 5 Versions You Will Receive

1

Simple

Clear and direct — easy for anyone to understand immediately.

2

Warm

Human and approachable — builds connection and relatability.

3

Executive

Polished and strategic — speaks the language of senior leaders.

4

Career-Change Friendly

Bridges your past experience to your new direction confidently.

5

Consultant Style

Outcome-focused and results-oriented — ideal for independent professionals.

Build Your Personal Brand Voice Guide

AI works significantly better when it understands your voice. A voice guide is a short reference document you share with AI at the start of any writing session — it ensures every output sounds like you.

Your Voice Guide Should Include:

Preferred Tone

Professional, conversational, direct, warm, authoritative — or a blend.

Topics You Care About

The subjects and themes that genuinely interest and energize you.

Words You Use Often

Phrases and vocabulary that feel natural and authentic to you.

Additional Voice Elements:

Words to Avoid

Jargon, buzzwords, or phrases that feel inauthentic or overused.

Formality Level

How formal or conversational you want your writing to sound.

Desired Reader Feeling

How you want people to feel after reading your content or profile.

 Save your voice guide as a document you can paste into any AI conversation. It becomes the foundation of your entire LinkedIn AI Toolkit.

Module 1 Assignment

Complete all four deliverables before moving to Module 2. These outputs will be used and refined throughout the rest of the course.

1

One LinkedIn Goal

Your clear, 90-day LinkedIn goal written in one or two sentences.
This is your north star for the entire course.

2

Three Target Audiences

The three most important groups you want to reach — with notes on what each audience cares about.

3

One Professional Value Statement

Your best version from the AI prompt — the one that feels most true to who you are and what you offer.

4

One Personal Brand Voice Guide

A short reference document covering your tone, topics, vocabulary, and the feeling you want to create.

Reflection Question: What do I want people to understand about me more clearly after visiting my LinkedIn profile?

Module 2 — Improve Your LinkedIn Profile with AI

Your LinkedIn profile should help the right person quickly understand who you are and why you matter — in seconds.

Who you are

What you do

Who you help

What you're good at

Why your experience matters

What to do next

Profile Strategy Before Editing

Do not start by rewriting everything. Start by asking the right questions first.

What is my goal?

Define what you want your profile to achieve — a new role, clients, visibility, or credibility.

Who is reading this?

Identify your target reader — a recruiter, a potential client, a collaborator, or a hiring manager.

What do they need to understand quickly?

Pinpoint the one or two things your reader must grasp within the first few seconds.

What proof supports my credibility?

Gather real examples, results, and evidence before you write a single word.

What should they do next?

Decide on a clear call to action — message you, visit a link, or reach out directly.

AI Prompt — Profile Review

Copy and use this prompt to get structured, actionable feedback on your current LinkedIn profile before making any changes.

Act as a LinkedIn profile reviewer. Review the following profile text for clarity, credibility, and usefulness to my target audience.

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

My target audience: [insert audience]

My current profile text: [paste headline, About section, experience summary, and skills]

Give feedback in 4 categories:

1. What is clear
2. What is unclear
3. What sounds generic
4. What I should improve first

Why This Prompt Works

It forces the AI to evaluate your profile through your reader's eyes — not just for grammar or polish, but for real-world usefulness and credibility.

What You Get

- Honest clarity assessment
- Identification of generic language
- A prioritized improvement list
- Audience-specific feedback

Improve Your Headline

Your headline should be clear before it is clever. Most people read your headline before anything else — make it count.

Your Role

State what you actually do in plain language.

Your Specialty

Name the specific area where you have depth.

Your Audience

Mention who you serve or work with.

The Value You Provide

Describe the outcome or benefit you deliver.

Your Direction

Signal where you are headed professionally.

 Avoid vague claims like: "Passionate results-driven professional." These phrases say nothing specific and are ignored by readers.

Headline Before and After

See how a rewritten headline transforms a generic title into a clear, compelling professional statement.

✗ Before

Marketing Manager

✓ After

Marketing Manager | Helping B2B teams turn customer insights into clearer campaigns and stronger sales support

✗ Before

Open to Work | Project Manager

✓ After

Project Manager | Cross-functional planning, process improvement, and team coordination | Exploring roles in healthcare operations

👉 Notice the pattern: Role | What you do for whom | Direction or specialty. Clear, specific, and human — no buzzwords required.

AI Prompt — Headline Options

Copy and use this prompt to generate 10 headline variations tailored to your role, audience, and goals.

Act as a LinkedIn headline coach. Create 10 headline options for me based on the information below.

My current role: [insert role]

My target audience: [insert audience]

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

My strengths: [insert strengths]

Rules:

- Keep the headline clear and credible
- Do not exaggerate
- Avoid buzzwords
- Include simple, warm, and strategic options

What to Do With 10 Options

Don't just pick the first one. Read all 10 out loud. Ask yourself which one sounds most like you — and most useful to your reader.

Pro Tip

Ask the AI to combine elements from two options you like. You can iterate until the headline feels exactly right.

Improve Your About Section

Your About section should tell a clear professional story — not a list of adjectives. The goal is human, credible, and specific.

01

What you do

Open with a plain-language description of your work and focus area.

02

Who you help

Name the people, teams, or organizations you serve.

03

Problems you understand

Show empathy and expertise by naming the challenges your audience faces.

04

Your strengths

Describe what you are genuinely good at — with specificity, not superlatives.

05

Selected proof

Include one or two real examples, results, or experiences that back up your claims.

06

A simple next step

End with a clear, low-friction call to action for your reader.

About Section Before and After

The difference between a forgettable About section and a compelling one comes down to specificity and honesty.

✗ BEFORE

I am a highly motivated professional with a proven track record of success. I am passionate about helping companies grow.

This version is vague, generic, and says nothing a reader can act on. It could describe almost anyone.

✓ AFTER

I help growing teams turn scattered ideas into clear marketing plans.

Over the past 8 years, I have worked across campaign planning, customer research, and sales enablement. My work often sits where strategy needs to become practical: clearer messaging, better briefs, and stronger alignment between teams.

- ① The "After" version names a specific problem, a specific audience, a timeframe, and real areas of work. It earns trust through detail — not adjectives.

AI Prompt — About Section Rewrite

Copy and use this prompt to get three distinct versions of your About section — each with a different tone and length.

Act as a LinkedIn About section editor.
Rewrite my About section in a clear, human,
credible tone.

My goal on LinkedIn: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

My current About section: [paste current
About section]

Rules:

- Do not make me sound like an influencer
- Do not exaggerate
- Use plain English
- Give me 3 versions: concise, warm,
and detailed

Three Versions Explained

- Concise: 3–5 sentences, punchy and direct
- Warm: Conversational, personal, approachable
- Detailed: Full story with proof and context

Which to Use?

Mix and match. Take the opening from the warm version, the proof from the detailed version, and the close from the concise version.

Improve Your Experience Section

Your experience section should show more than a list of tasks. It should demonstrate how you worked, what you contributed, and what resulted.

Key Responsibilities

Describe the scope and nature of your role clearly.

Projects

Name specific initiatives you led or contributed to.

Collaboration

Show who you worked with — teams, stakeholders, clients.

Tools or Methods

Mention relevant platforms, frameworks, or approaches.

Problems Solved

Describe the challenges you addressed and how.

Results When Available

Include real outcomes — but only when you have them.

 Rule: Do not invent numbers or outcomes. Fabricated metrics destroy credibility the moment someone asks a follow-up question.

AI Prompt — Experience Rewrite

Copy and use this prompt to transform a flat job description into a specific, credible, and action-oriented experience entry.

Act as a LinkedIn experience section editor.
Rewrite this experience entry so it is clear,
specific, and credible.

Current role: [insert role]

Current text: [paste current experience
section]

Key projects or responsibilities:
[insert details]

Results or proof points:
[insert results if available]

Rules:

- Do not invent numbers
- Use action-oriented language
- Keep the tone professional and human

What "Action-Oriented" Means

Start bullet points with verbs: Led, Built, Coordinated, Designed, Improved, Supported, Delivered.

What to Avoid

- Passive voice ("was responsible for")
- Vague scope ("various projects")
- Invented metrics ("increased revenue by 300%")

Improve Skills and Featured Sections

Your skills should support your current direction — not just reflect your past. Your Featured section is your proof wall.

Skills Section

Audit your skills list regularly. Remove outdated or irrelevant skills. Add skills that align with where you are headed — but only if they are accurate.

❓ Ask yourself: Would I be comfortable being tested on this skill in an interview?

❗ The key question: What evidence would make the right person trust me faster? Build your Featured section around the answer.

Featured Section — Show Proof

- Work samples
- Articles you have written
- Presentations or talks
- Case examples or project summaries
- Portfolio links
- Media mentions
- Useful posts that demonstrate expertise

AI Prompt — Skills Review

Copy and use this prompt to get a strategic, goal-aligned skills audit — including what to keep, remove, add, and prove.

Act as a LinkedIn skills strategist. Based on my LinkedIn goal, target audience, and current role, suggest the most relevant skills I should consider featuring.

My goal: [insert goal]

My role/background: [insert background]

Current skills listed: [paste skills]

Give me:

1. Skills to keep
2. Skills to remove or deprioritize
3. Skills to add if accurate
4. Skills that need proof in my profile

Why Skills Strategy Matters

LinkedIn's search algorithm surfaces profiles based on skills. The right skills in the right order can determine whether you appear in a recruiter's search results.

The Proof Gap

If you list a skill but nothing in your profile demonstrates it, it weakens your credibility. Use the Featured section to close that gap.

Profile Review Checklist

Before you consider your profile complete, run through every item on this checklist. Each point represents a common gap that weakens otherwise strong profiles.

- ☐ Clear goal defined for the profile
- ☐ Clear target audience identified
- ☐ Strong, specific headline written
- ☐ Human, credible About section
- ☐ Specific, action-oriented experience section
- ☐ Relevant, current skills listed
- ☐ Credible proof in Featured section
- ☐ No exaggerated claims or invented numbers
- ☐ No vague buzzwords or filler phrases
- ☐ Clear next step or call to action included

✓ A profile that passes all 10 checks is ready to work for you. It will be clearer, more credible, and more useful to the right reader than 90% of profiles on LinkedIn.

Module 2 Assignment

Complete all six deliverables below to finish Module 2. Use the AI prompts from this module to support each step.

1

Revised Headline

Use the headline prompt to generate 10 options. Select and refine the one that best fits your goal and audience.

2

Revised About Section

Use the About section prompt to generate three versions. Combine the best elements into one final version.

3

Revised Experience Section

Rewrite at least one experience entry using the experience prompt. Focus on specificity and honest proof.

4

Skills Review

Run the skills prompt and update your skills list based on the output. Remove what no longer fits.

5

Featured Section Plan

Identify two to three pieces of proof you can add to your Featured section. Plan how to create or find them.

6

Profile Review Checklist

Complete the full checklist from Slide 28. Note any items that still need work.

Reflection: Where does my profile still need more proof, clarity, or personality? Write down your honest answer before moving to Module 3.

Module 3 — Create Better LinkedIn Content with AI

Good LinkedIn content does not have to be viral. It just has to work — for your audience and your goals.

Useful Delivers real value	Clear Easy to understand
Relevant Fits your audience	Credible Backed by experience
Human Sounds like you	Goal-Driven Connected to purpose

AI will help you brainstorm, draft, edit, and improve — but the direction and voice are always yours.

What Good LinkedIn Content Does

Great posts don't need to go viral. They need to resonate with the right people at the right time.

→ Teach something useful

Share knowledge your audience can apply immediately.

→ Share a lesson learned

Real experience is more valuable than polished theory.

→ Explain a common problem

Name what your audience already struggles with.

→ Tell a relevant story

Stories make abstract ideas concrete and memorable.

→ Offer a practical framework

Give people a structure they can use right away.

→ Ask a thoughtful question

Start a conversation that matters to your community.

What to Avoid

Do not use LinkedIn content to create fake authority. Authenticity is your most valuable asset — protect it.

The Core Rule

Every post you publish reflects your professional reputation. One misleading post can undermine months of credibility-building. When in doubt, leave it out.

Made-up stories

Fabricated experiences erode trust fast.

Exaggerated results

Inflated claims are easy to spot and hard to recover from.

Engagement bait

Cheap tactics attract the wrong audience.

Copying other posts

Borrowed content is not your voice.

Overly polished AI language

Sounds generic and impersonal.

False urgency & unsupported claims

Undermines your credibility immediately.

Choose Your Content Pillars

Content pillars are repeatable topic areas that give your LinkedIn presence focus, consistency, and direction. They make it easier to show up regularly without starting from scratch every time.

Practical Tips

Mistakes & Improvements

Pick 3–5 pillars that align with your professional goal and your audience's real needs. Consistency across these themes builds recognition over time.

AI Prompt — Content Pillars

 COPY & USE THIS PROMPT

 Use this prompt to identify your most authentic and strategic content themes with AI assistance.

Act as a LinkedIn content strategist. Based on my professional goal, audience, and experience, help me identify content themes that would be useful and authentic for me.

My goal: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

My background: [insert background]

Create:

1. 5 content pillars
2. 3 sample post ideas for each pillar
3. Why each pillar matters to my audience

Step 1

Fill in your goal, audience, and background with real specifics — not vague descriptions.

Step 2

Review the 5 pillars AI suggests. Keep only the ones that feel genuinely true to your experience.

Step 3

Use the sample post ideas as starting points — not finished content. Add your own details.

Turn Real Experience Into Content

Your best content often comes from things that already happened — not from trying to invent something impressive. Look back at your recent work and you'll find more ideas than you expect.

A Question Someone Asked You

If one person asked, many others are wondering the same thing.

A Mistake You Corrected

Honest lessons from real errors build trust and relatability.

A Project Lesson

What did you learn that others in your field should know?

A Process You Improved

Share the before and after — practical and credible.

A Customer Problem

Real client challenges make for highly relevant content.

A Team Challenge

Leadership and collaboration stories resonate widely.

AI Prompt — Generate Content Ideas

 COPY & USE THIS PROMPT

 Use this prompt to generate a full bank of post ideas rooted in your real professional experience.

Act as my LinkedIn content idea partner. Generate 20 post ideas based on my real professional experience.

My role: [insert role]

My audience: [insert audience]

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

Recent projects, lessons, questions, or observations: [insert notes]

Organize ideas into:

- Educational posts
- Story-based posts
- Opinions
- Practical tips
- Conversation starters

Why 20 Ideas?

Generating a large batch at once helps you build a content calendar, spot patterns, and choose only the strongest ideas — rather than feeling pressure to publish whatever comes first.

Pro Tip

The more specific your notes about recent projects and observations, the better the ideas AI will generate. Vague input produces generic output. Specific input produces ideas that actually sound like you.

Common LinkedIn Post Types

Variety keeps your content fresh and your audience engaged. Try rotating through these formats to find what resonates most with your specific audience.

You don't need to use all ten formats. Start with two or three that feel natural, then experiment with others as your confidence grows.

Draft Posts with AI

AI can help you get past the blank page. A first draft — even an imperfect one — is far easier to improve than nothing at all.

1 Real Details

Replace generic placeholders with specific facts from your actual experience.

2 Your Experience

Add context that only you could know — the nuance that makes it credible.

3 Your Judgment

AI doesn't know what you actually think. Add your real opinion.

4 Your Examples

Concrete examples from your work make posts memorable and trustworthy.

5 Your Voice

Edit until it sounds like something you would actually say out loud.

AI drafts.
You decide.

The final post is always your responsibility. AI is a tool, not a ghostwriter with your reputation on the line.

AI Prompt — Post Draft

 COPY & USE THIS PROMPT

Use this prompt to generate two versions of any LinkedIn post — then combine the best elements of each.

Act as my LinkedIn post drafting assistant. Write a first draft of a LinkedIn post using the information below.

Post idea: [insert idea]

Audience: [insert audience]

Main point: [insert main point]

Personal example: [insert example]

Rules:

- Keep it clear and human
- Do not exaggerate
- Do not use clickbait
- End with a thoughtful, natural question
- Give me 2 versions: concise and story-based

Concise Version

Short, punchy, direct. Best for busy professionals who skim their feed.

Story-Based Version

Narrative arc with a beginning, middle, and lesson. Best for building connection.

Your Final Version

Take the best elements from both drafts and make it sound unmistakably like you.

Improve Hooks Without Clickbait

Your opening line determines whether someone keeps reading. A good hook helps the reader understand immediately why this post matters to them — without tricks or manipulation.

Better Hooks That Work

Name a real problem

"Most project timelines fail for the same reason — and it's not the deadline."

Challenge a common assumption

"We're told to network more. That's not actually the problem."

Share a useful lesson

"The best feedback I ever received came from a client complaint."

Start with a clear observation

"After 10 years in this industry, one pattern keeps showing up."

Ask a thoughtful question

"What's the one thing you wish someone had told you in your first year?"

What to Avoid

"You won't believe what happened next."

Clickbait hooks promise drama but deliver disappointment. They attract the wrong readers and signal low credibility to the right ones.

Your hook should earn attention — not steal it.

AI Prompt — Edit for Clarity

 COPY & USE THIS PROMPT

 Use this prompt after drafting to sharpen your post's structure, readability, and impact — without losing your voice.

Act as a LinkedIn post editor. Improve this post for clarity, structure, and reader value.

Draft post: [paste post]
Audience: [insert audience]
My voice guide: [paste voice guide]

Rules:

- Keep my voice
- Remove fluff
- Improve the opening without clickbait
- Make the structure easier to read
- Keep the post credible and human

01

Paste your draft

Include the full post — even if it feels rough. AI edits better with more context.

03

Review every suggestion

Accept changes that improve clarity. Reject anything that removes your personality.

02

Add your voice guide

Reference your voice guide from Module 2 to keep the edit aligned with your style.

04

Read it aloud

If it doesn't sound like you speaking, keep editing until it does.

AI Prompt — Authenticity Review

📄 COPY & USE THIS PROMPT

⚠️ Run every AI-assisted post through this review before publishing. Credibility is hard to build and easy to lose.

Act as an authenticity reviewer. Review this LinkedIn post and tell me whether it sounds credible, human, and aligned with my experience.

Post: [paste post]

My real experience: [insert experience]

Flag anything that sounds:

- Exaggerated
- Too polished
- Generic
- Unsupported
- Like engagement bait

Then suggest a more grounded rewrite.

What AI Will Flag

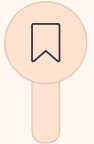

- Claims that go beyond your stated experience
- Language that sounds like a press release
- Vague superlatives with no evidence
- Emotional manipulation tactics
- Generic advice that could apply to anyone

Why This Step Matters

AI-generated language can drift toward impressive-sounding but hollow phrases. This review step is your quality gate — it keeps your content grounded in what you actually know and have actually done.

Module 3 Assignment

Put everything from this module into practice. Complete all five steps before moving on.

Choose 3–5 Content Pillars

Use the AI prompt to identify your most authentic and strategic topic areas.

Generate at Least 10 Content Ideas

Use the content idea prompt with specific notes from your recent work.

Draft 3 LinkedIn Posts

Use the post draft prompt. Add your real details, voice, and examples to each.

Edit One Post for Clarity & Authenticity

Run it through both the clarity editor and the authenticity reviewer prompts.

Save Your Best Post

Keep it ready for future publishing when the timing is right.

Reflection: What ideas can I share that would genuinely help my audience?

Module 4: Build a Weekly LinkedIn Workflow

Visibility improves when LinkedIn becomes repeatable. A structured weekly workflow transforms sporadic effort into consistent, compounding results.

Why a Weekly Routine Works

A simple, repeatable routine is the foundation of sustainable LinkedIn visibility. Choose a version you can actually keep.

Reduce Decision Fatigue

Know exactly what to do each week without overthinking it.

Stay Consistent

Show up regularly so your audience knows you're present.

Build Relationships

Repeated, genuine engagement deepens professional connections.

Improve Over Time

Weekly review cycles help you learn what resonates.

Avoid Random Posting

Replace sporadic bursts with intentional, planned activity.

Make LinkedIn Manageable

A clear structure removes the overwhelm from the platform.

AI Prompt — Build My Weekly Routine

Copy and use this prompt to generate a personalized LinkedIn workflow tailored to your time and goals.

Act as a LinkedIn workflow designer. Help me create a realistic weekly LinkedIn routine based on my available time.

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

AI Prompt — 30-Minute Plan

When time is tight, this prompt helps you identify the highest-value LinkedIn actions for your week.

Act as my 30-minute LinkedIn planning assistant. I only have 30 minutes this week. Based on my goal and audience, help me choose the highest-value LinkedIn actions.

Give me:

1

One Post Idea

A focused topic that resonates with your audience this week.

2

Two Engagement Targets

Two people or types of people to engage with meaningfully.

3

One Connection Message

A brief, specific outreach message ready to send.

4

One Follow-Up Message

A warm follow-up to an existing connection or conversation.

60-MINUTE WORKFLOW

The 60-Minute Weekly Workflow

Best for steady visibility. This balanced routine gives you enough time to post, engage, and connect consistently.

1

15 min

Choose two post ideas

2

20 min

Draft or edit one to two posts

3

10 min

Comment on four to five relevant posts

4

10 min

Send two connection requests

5

5 min

Review what worked

AI Prompt — 60-Minute Plan

Use this prompt to generate a complete, structured 60-minute LinkedIn plan for the week ahead.

Act as my weekly LinkedIn content and engagement planner. Create a 60-minute plan for this week.

My goal: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

Topics I can post about: [insert topics]

2 Post Ideas

Ready-to-develop content concepts for your audience.

1 Draft Outline

A structured outline for your strongest post idea.

5 Comment Angles

Thoughtful angles to engage with posts in your feed.

2 Connection Messages

Personalized outreach messages ready to customize and send.

1 Follow-Up Message

A warm message to nurture an existing connection.

The 90-Minute Weekly Workflow

Best for more active visibility. This comprehensive routine covers every dimension of LinkedIn presence.

01

15 min — Review Goals & Priorities

Align your weekly LinkedIn activity with your broader professional objectives.

03

15 min — Edit Posts

Refine for clarity, tone, and impact before scheduling.

05

10 min — Send Three to Five Connection Requests

Grow your network with targeted, personalized outreach.

02

25 min — Draft Two to Three Posts

Write first drafts while ideas are fresh and energy is high.

04

15 min — Comment on Six to Eight Posts

Engage meaningfully with your network and target audience.

06

10 min — Follow Up with Existing Contacts

Nurture relationships that are already in progress.

AI Prompt — 90-Minute Plan

This comprehensive prompt generates a full 90-minute LinkedIn visibility plan, including posts, comments, and connection templates.

Act as my 90-minute LinkedIn visibility partner. Help me create a focused weekly plan.

My goal: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

My content pillars: [insert pillars]

1	90-Minute Schedule A time-blocked plan for your full session.
2	3 Post Ideas Content concepts aligned to your pillars and audience.
3	2 Post Outlines Structured outlines ready to draft from.
4	6 Comment Starters Thoughtful openers for engaging with posts in your feed.
5	5 Connection Templates Personalized request messages for different contexts.
6	3 Follow-Up Messages Warm messages to continue conversations already started.

Better LinkedIn Comments

A useful comment should do more than say "great post." Strong comments build your reputation and invite real conversation.

Add a Related Example

Ground the idea in a real-world scenario from your own experience or observation.

Ask a Thoughtful Question

Invite the author and others to go deeper on the topic.

Build on the Idea

Extend the author's point with a complementary insight or next step.

Share a Useful Observation

Offer a perspective that adds value without restating what was already said.

Offer Another Angle

Respectfully present a different viewpoint that enriches the discussion.

AI Prompt — Comment Assistant

Use this prompt to craft comments that are genuine, valuable, and sound like a real person — not a bot.

Act as my LinkedIn comment assistant. Help me write a thoughtful comment on this post.

Post summary or text: [paste or summarize post]

My perspective: [insert view]

Rules for Great Comments

- Do not flatter excessively
- Add a useful thought, question, or example
- Keep it concise
- Make it sound like a real person

Why This Matters

Comments are often the first impression you make on someone who doesn't follow you yet. A thoughtful comment can lead to a profile visit, a connection request, or a new professional relationship. Quality always beats quantity.

Better Connection Requests

A strong connection request opens a door. A weak one gets ignored. The difference is specificity and respect.

A Strong Request Is:

→ Brief

Two to three sentences maximum — respect their time.

→ Specific

Reference something real — a post, a shared interest, a mutual connection.

→ Respectful

No pressure, no assumptions about their time or interest.

→ Not a Pitch

The first message is never the place to sell anything.

→ Clearly Contextual

Make it obvious why you're reaching out and how you're connected.

Example Request

Hi Maya, I appreciated your recent post on customer onboarding. I work in client success and would enjoy staying connected.

✓ This works because it's specific, warm, and gives Maya a clear reason to accept — without asking for anything in return.

Module 4 Assignment

Put your workflow into practice. Choose one routine and build the templates that will make it repeatable.

Step 1: Choose Your Workflow

- 30-minute version
- 60-minute version
- 90-minute version

Step 2: Create Your Templates

01

Two Comment Templates

Ready-to-adapt starters for engaging with posts in your feed.

02

Two Connection Request Templates

Brief, specific messages for different outreach contexts.

03

Two Follow-Up Templates

Warm messages to continue conversations already started.

04

One Weekly Success Measure

Define what "a good LinkedIn week" looks like for you.

Reflection: What LinkedIn routine can I maintain without overcomplicating it?

Module 5 — Use AI as a LinkedIn Practice Partner

AI can help you test how your profile, posts, and messages may land with different readers. Simulate real perspectives before you publish or apply.

-  Profile Reviewer
-  Recruiter
-  Hiring Manager
-  Potential Client
-  Industry Peer
-  Skeptical Reader
-  Supportive Coach

Why Role-Play Helps

You usually write from your own point of view — which means you can miss what your audience actually experiences. Role-play shifts the lens.

What is Clear

Identify the parts of your profile or post that communicate instantly and without friction.

What is Confusing

Spot language that assumes too much, uses jargon, or leaves the reader guessing.

What Sounds Credible

Discover which claims land with authority and which ones feel hollow or unsubstantiated.

What Feels Unsupported

Find the assertions that need proof — numbers, examples, or specific outcomes.

What Your Audience Needs Next

Understand what a reader wants to do or know after reading — and whether you give it to them.

AI Role-Play — Profile Reviewer

PROMPT TEMPLATE

Copy and use this prompt to get a thorough, reader-centered review of your LinkedIn profile.

The Prompt

Act as a careful LinkedIn profile reviewer. Review my profile from the perspective of someone deciding whether to learn more about me.

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

My target audience: [insert audience]

Profile text: [paste profile text]

Ask AI to Tell You:

1. First impression
2. What is clear
3. What is confusing
4. What seems credible
5. What needs stronger proof
6. What you should revise first

AI Role-Play — Recruiter

BEST FOR JOB SEEKERS & CAREER CHANGERS

The Prompt

Act as a recruiter reviewing my LinkedIn profile for this type of role:

Target role: [insert role]

My profile text: [paste profile]

Evaluate:

1. Do I seem aligned with the role?
2. What strengths stand out?
3. What proof points are missing?
4. What questions would you have?
5. What changes would make this stronger?

AI Role-Play — Hiring Manager

TEST ROLE FIT

Use this when you want to understand how a decision-maker evaluates your candidacy — not just your keywords, but your overall story.

The Prompt

Act as a hiring manager. Review my LinkedIn profile for this role:
[insert role].

Ask AI to Tell You:

- What makes me a strong candidate
- What feels unclear
- What experience needs more detail
- What concerns you might have
- What I should improve before applying

 Do not invent experience. Ask AI to work only with what you have provided.

AI Role-Play — Potential Client

CONSULTANTS · FREELANCERS · BUSINESS OWNERS · SALES PROFESSIONALS

The Prompt

Act as a potential client reviewing my LinkedIn profile and recent post.

My service: [insert service]

My target client: [insert client type]

Profile or post: [paste content]

Ask AI to Tell You:

1. Do you understand what I help with?
2. Do I sound credible?
3. What would make you trust me more?
4. What objections might you have?
5. What questions would you ask before contacting me?

AI Role-Play — Industry Peer

TEST CONTENT USEFULNESS

Use this to test whether your content feels genuinely useful to someone who already knows your field — not just impressive-sounding.

The Prompt

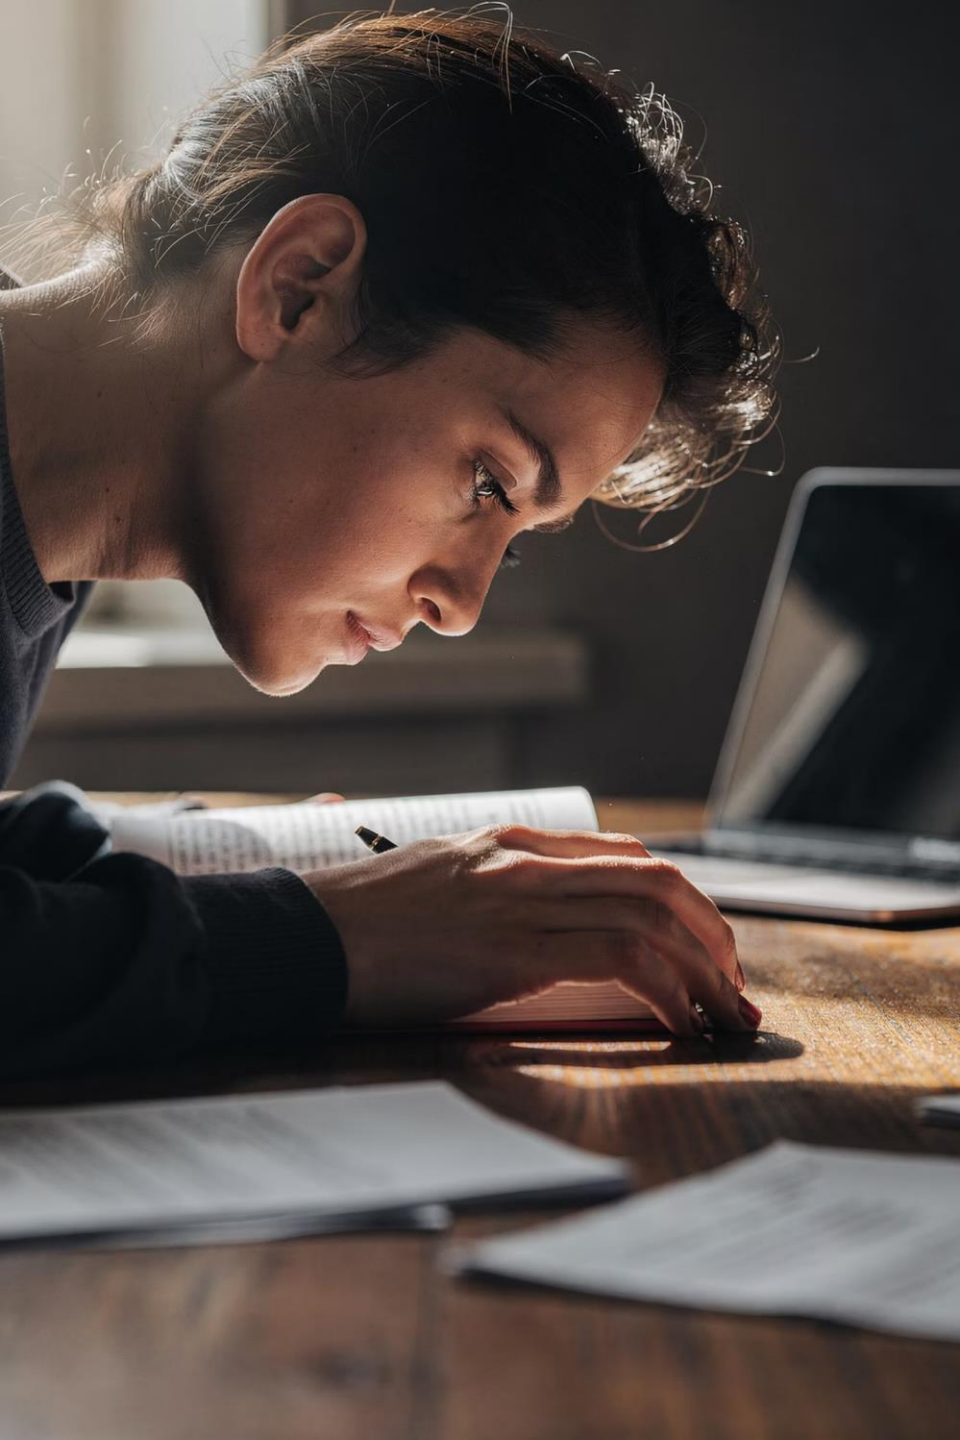

Act as a thoughtful peer in my industry. Review this LinkedIn post and tell me whether it feels useful, accurate, and worth engaging with.

Industry: [insert industry]

Post: [paste post]

Ask for Feedback On:

- Clarity
- Usefulness
- Tone
- Specificity
- Whether it invites meaningful conversation

AI Role-Play — Skeptical Reader

REDUCE EXAGGERATION · BUILD TRUST

The Prompt

Act as a skeptical but fair LinkedIn reader. Review this post or profile section.

Content: [paste content]

Look For:

- Unsupported claims
- Vague language
- Overly polished wording
- Exaggeration
- Anything that would reduce trust

Then ask AI to suggest a more credible rewrite based on the same content.

AI Role-Play — Supportive Coach

IMPROVE WITHOUT LOSING YOUR VOICE

Use this when you need helpful feedback without losing confidence — or when previous drafts have started to sound generic or over-polished.

The Prompt

Act as a supportive LinkedIn coach. Review my draft and help me improve it without making it sound fake or overly polished.

Draft: [paste draft]

My goal: [insert goal]

My voice guide: [paste guide]

Ask AI to Give You:

1. What is already working
2. What to improve
3. A revised version
4. One confidence-building note

Scenario — Career Changer

A project coordinator wants to move into operations management. Without role-play feedback, the profile may read as a task list rather than a leadership story.

1

Tasks vs. Process Improvement

The profile shows tasks but not process improvement — a key signal for operations roles.

2

Transferable Skills

Transferable skills need clearer language that maps directly to the target role's expectations.

3

About Section Direction

The About section should explain the career direction — not just summarize past roles.

4

Posts Show Learning

Posts can demonstrate learning and industry interest, signaling genuine commitment to the new path.

Scenario — Consultant

A consultant wants more client conversations. AI role-play as a potential client often reveals gaps that the consultant cannot see from the inside.

Who They Help

The profile does not clearly say who they help — the ideal client is invisible to the reader.

Featured Section

The Featured section needs proof — case studies, results, or client outcomes that build credibility.

Post Topics

Posts should address client problems directly, not just share industry news or personal milestones.

Connection Messages

Connection messages should not pitch too early — lead with value and curiosity, not a sales ask.

Module 5 Assignment

Put the role-play prompts into practice. Complete three AI role-plays, then use the feedback to make targeted revisions.

Complete 3 AI Role-Plays

1. Profile reviewer
2. One audience-specific role-play
3. Skeptical reader

Then Revise:

- One profile section
- One post
- One message

Reflection: What did AI help me see that I missed on my own?

Module 6 — Build Your Personal LinkedIn AI Toolkit

Your toolkit helps you keep improving after the course. Build a reusable system of prompts that works for every aspect of your LinkedIn presence.

TOOLKIT PROMPT 3

Post Draft

Copy and save this prompt to turn any idea into two polished LinkedIn post drafts:

Act as my LinkedIn post drafting assistant.

Post idea: [insert idea]

Main point: [insert main point]

Personal example: [insert real example]

Audience: [insert audience]

Voice guide: [paste voice guide]

Create 2 draft versions: concise and story-based. Keep it clear, human, credible, and free of clickbait.

Version 1: Concise

Short, punchy, and direct — ideal for busy readers who scroll fast

Version 2: Story-Based

Narrative-driven with a clear arc — builds connection and trust

Post Editor

Copy and save this prompt to sharpen any draft before you publish:

Act as my LinkedIn post editor.

Draft: [paste draft]

My voice guide: [paste voice guide]

My goal: [insert goal]

Improve the post for clarity, structure, specificity, reader value, and natural tone. Flag anything generic, exaggerated, or unsupported.

What Gets Reviewed

- Clarity and structure
- Specificity of claims
- Reader value delivered
- Natural, authentic tone
- Generic or vague language
- Exaggerated statements
- Unsupported assertions

Comment Assistant

Copy and save this prompt to write comments that add real value and build genuine relationships:

Act as my LinkedIn comment assistant.

Post I want to comment on: [paste or summarize post]

My point of view: [insert perspective]

Write 3 possible comments: 1. Short and thoughtful 2. Adds a useful example 3. Asks a smart question

Do not overpraise, pitch, or sound automated.

Short & Thoughtful

Concise, genuine reaction that shows you actually read the post

Adds a Useful Example

Extends the conversation with a relevant real-world example

Asks a Smart Question

Invites dialogue and signals intellectual curiosity

Connection Message

Copy and save this prompt to write connection requests that feel human, specific, and worth accepting:

Act as my LinkedIn networking assistant.

Person I want to connect with: [insert person]

Why I want to connect: [insert reason]

Shared context: [insert shared context]

Write 3 short connection request options. Do not pitch. Make each message specific, respectful, and human.

The Golden Rules

Never pitch

A connection request is not a sales message

Be specific

Reference something real about them or your shared context

Stay human

Write like a person, not a template

Weekly Planning

Copy and save this prompt to build a realistic, focused LinkedIn action plan every week:

Act as my weekly LinkedIn planning partner.

My LinkedIn goal: [insert goal]

My audience: [insert audience]

Time available this week: [insert 30, 60, or 90 minutes]

My current content ideas: [insert ideas]

Create a weekly plan with content actions, engagement actions, connection actions, one improvement focus, and one simple success measure.

Content Actions

What to write and publish this week

Engagement Actions

Posts to comment on and conversations to join

Connection Actions

New people to reach out to thoughtfully

Success Measure

One simple metric to know the week worked

Brand Voice Guide

Copy and save this prompt to build a reusable voice guide you can paste into every future LinkedIn prompt:

Act as my personal brand voice guide builder.

Ask me questions about my tone, values, audience, communication style, words I use, words I avoid, and how I want people to feel after reading my content.

Then create a reusable voice guide I can paste into future LinkedIn prompts.

- ✔ Once built, paste your voice guide into every other toolkit prompt for consistent, on-brand results every time.

Your Voice Guide Covers

- Tone and personality
- Core values
- Target audience
- Communication style
- Words you use
- Words you avoid
- How readers should feel
